Rev. L. M. Ayer will preach at Salem on next Sunday at 11 a. m.

Petty thieves are stealing fodder in Greenville and English peas in Anderson.

The Williamson Female College will have no commencement exercises this year.

Call on John E. Peoples for rubber belting of all sizes, suitable for threshers, cotton gins, &c.

The farmers have been considerably in the grass since the rains, but are beginning to see their way out.

The patches of wheat and other small grain about town are very fine, and are beginning to ripen.

We hear of considerable rust in the wheat, but the general opinion is that it will not seriously damage the crop.

The County Treasurer has up to date issued about 500 receipts and collected in the neighborhood of $5,700 taxes.

Go to the temperance meeting in the Court House this evening. Rev. W. H. Strickland and H. G. Scuday, Esq., will speak.

Mr. Walter Brown has our thanks for an invitation to the anniversary celebration of the Adolphian Literary Society of Furman University.

Mr. John Dalrymple sent us on Tuesday last a very fine specimen of clover, which he says is about an average of an acre patch. It is four feet high.

Gen. S. McGowan and Ools. A. Burt and Wm. F. Parker, of Abbeville, S. C., were in town on Tuesday and Wednesday upon professional business.

Appointments of the Y. M. C. A. for next Sunday: Poor House Committee, A. B. Towers, P. K. McCully; Jail Committee, A. P. Hubbard, R. R. Todd.

Mr. J. B. Neal has sent to our office some very fine specimens of his oat and barley crops. The oats are over five feet in height, while the barley is about four.

On account of the Sunday school meeting in the Baptist Church next Sunday afternoon, the usual afternoon meeting of the Y. M. C. A. has been dispensed with.

About twenty-five or thirty of the young people of Anderson went to High Shoals on a picnic excursion last Friday, and from all accounts enjoyed the day very much.

On last Monday afternoon a heavy rain with hail storm passed over the Saluda side of Anderson County, washing the crops very badly and doing considerable damage.

If you want a straw hat cheap, call on C. A. Reed, Agent. He still has a good assortment of felt and stiff hats also.

Twenty or twenty-five members of the Lodge of Good Samaritans of this place are attending the meeting of their Grand Lodge, which convened in Columbia on Saturday last.

The agents for commercial fertilizers in Anderson have done a big business this year—bigger probably than has ever been done—having sold about two thousand tons of the precious stuff.

C. A. Reed has been appointed agent for the sale of Louis Cook's celebrated buggies. He has just received an elegant assortment, and can suit those who call on him early.

On last Saturday afternoon the Mountain Creek Division of Sons of Temperance met by appointment and initiated seven new members. Addresses were made by Messrs. L. P. Smith, G. F. Tolly, H. G. Scuday and E. B. Murray. The Division gives promise of flourishing.

The Abbeville Medium says: "The Anderson and Ninety-Six military companies made the finest appearance at the monument parade last week. They couldn't make as many fancy maneuvers as the city squads, and they didn't have quite as good clothes, but they were the cleanest and best looking fellows on the field, and could have whipped their weight in wild cats."

Mr. Mitchell Armstrong, a promising young farmer of Homea Path township, died at his residence three miles south of Homea Path on last Friday afternoon in the 25th year of his age, after an illness of several months, of consumption. He leaves a wife and two little children to mourn his death. His remains were interred in the Barker's Creek graveyard on Saturday afternoon.

To the Greenwood correspondent of the Abbeville Press and Banner, "it is a matter of astonishment how so many able-bodied negroes can feed and clothe themselves when not employed one-fourth of their time," and to the senior proprietor of the INTELLIGENCER "it is a matter of astonishment" what because of his English peas the other night.

The Savannah Valley Railroad is beginning to attract considerable attention in this County, and its friends are very earnest in their advocacy of the enterprise. Petitions are being sent to all of the townships through which the proposed route passes, which will, as soon as the sufficient number of signers are secured, be forwarded to the County Commissioners for their consideration in the several townships on the question of subscribing to the capital stock of the road.

Mr. Tinsan C. McGee, of the Fork township, is on a visit to his daughter, Mrs. O. H. Fant, and paid us a call on Wednesday morning. Mr. McGee is now in his eightieth year, and is the largest man in the County. It is his first visit to Anderson Court House since the war, and he has spent but one night from home since the first court was held in old Pickens District, which is about fifty years ago. He has been a farmer all his life, and has at all times enjoyed the confidence and esteem of his acquaintances.

We return thanks to Messrs. Walker, Evans & Cogswell, of Charleston, S. C., for a copy of the historical sketch of the South Carolina Military Academy, which was for so many years previous to the close of the war a glory and pride to our State. The sketch is prepared by Col. J. P. Thomas, superintendent of the Carolina Military Institute, located at Charlotte, N. C., in a most interesting and accurate style. Among the list of graduates we notice the names of several gentlemen from this County who have achieved distinction. The work will prove of much value to the history of education in our State, and all who can do so should obtain a copy at once. It is published in cloth binding at $1.50 or paper at $1.00.

The lecture to have been delivered by Rev. L. M. Ayer, of Murrefreesboro, Tenn., in the Baptist Church in Anderson on last Monday evening on "Immortality of the Soul," was postponed in consequence of the threatening and stormy weather on that evening to Wednesday evening, the 28th inst., at 8 o'clock. An invitation to the general public was extended from the pulpits of the town on last Sunday. The lecture is a fine one, and will more than repay the attendance of those who may be fortunate enough at any time to have the opportunity of listening to it. The subject is an interesting one which should receive much more thought and consideration than is usually bestowed upon it by the public, and we trust the lecture will have the effect of securing that attention for it.

The Washington correspondent of the Charleston News and Courier makes the following notice of Mr. J. A. Daniels and his burglar gun: "Mr. Daniels, of Anderson, S. C., arrived here yesterday and visited the patent office for the purpose of securing a patent for a newly-invented attachment, which he claims can be used upon any kind of a gun or pistol, and which will enable any such weapons to do special duty against 'barglars.' It can be attached or removed at pleasure. Mr. Alkon, I understand, has suggested an improvement which will ensure the desirable end that the gun shall shoot burglars only and nobody else. If Mr. Daniels can sell one of his attachments for every pistol and gun in South Carolina, his fortune is already assured. I desire to advertise all concerned that I shall apply for exclusive county rights in Edgefield and Aiken."

The June term of the Court of General Sessions for Anderson County will convene on next Monday week, 9th inst., and will be presided over by Hon. A. P. Aldrich, of Barnwell, Judge of the Second Circuit. The term will be of an unusual interest, as there will be several important criminal cases for trial. The following is a list of the jurors as drawn by the Jury Commissioners on the 21st inst.: A. O. Norris, John Haynie, John C. Whitten, S. M. Crayton, W. B. Tate, J. C. Milford, Ezekiel Hall, John J. Moorhead, Jerry Kay, (col.), J. J. Mattison, John Holland, James Barton, E. R. Pepper, James W. Erskine, James Brown, (col.) A. Y. Shirley, W. A. Ranson, C. K. Willford, George Schrimp, J. W. McPhail, B. F. Gassaway, J. J. Long, John M. Laboon, F. M. Norris, W. D. Dalrymple, J. D. Sheard, W. W. Russell, R. F. White, Raney Coleman, (col.) G. T. Milam, J. P. Cox, B. F. Moss, L. F. Holland, John C. Rogers, J. L. Jolly, Joseph Price.

Governor Simpson has appointed Mr. William McGukin County Treasurer and Mr. Thos. J. Webb County Auditor for Anderson. These gentlemen have made their bonds and forwarded them, after due approval, to Columbia. Their commissions will soon arrive, and they will enter upon the discharge of the duties of their respective offices. While there are no objections to the retiring officers, who discharged their duties faithfully and efficiently, the appointments above mentioned give very general satisfaction to the people, because they carry out the will of the people in the appointment of the men who received the highest vote for Treasurer and Auditor in the primary election last fall. Mr. Webb has been Auditor for several years, and as such was a most excellent and efficient officer, and Mr. McGukin as Sheriff for eight years has also shown himself to be a faithful and competent officer, and will make a most acceptable Treasurer.

The marriage ceremony of Mr. Charles F. Jones and Miss Rosa St. C. Webb was performed in the Methodist Church at this place by Rev. E. E. Carlisle, on last Tuesday evening, 27th inst., in the presence of a very large congregation of the people of Anderson. The couple were attended by the following ladies and gentlemen as bridesmaids and groomsmen: Mr. S. W. Wilkes and Miss Ida Brown; Mr. J. M. Outcast and Miss Julia Webb; Mr. H. A. Vandiver and Miss Eva Nardin; Mr. W. G. Scuday and Miss Anna Bewley; Mr. J. F. Brown and Miss Kate Perry; Mr. E. P. Sloan and Miss Mattie Benson; Mr. R. C. Webb and Miss Annie Whitner. The Church was appropriately decorated, and at the conclusion of the ceremony the marriage party, accompanied by their relatives and a few invited guests, repaired to the residence of Mrs. Webb, the bride's mother, and spent the evening in pleasant, social intercourse. May their future life be one of continued happiness.

Mr. J. A. Daniels returned from Washington on last Tuesday, where he has been to apply for letters patent for an attachment to fire-arms, to be used on either gun or pistol, and which converts the same into a burglar gun. The attachment is very simple, can be carried in a pocket-book, and attached to any gun or pistol that will stand cooked in one minute's time, without injuring its usefulness for other purposes. The gun or pistol to which the attachment is fixed can be placed on anything in any part of the room, and will shoot in as many directions as may be desired—will shoot a burglar in the foot, leg or body, according to the manner in which the attachment is arranged. A safety wire removes all danger to persons who are off guard or store it may be used, and so arrange it that it cannot be approached while asleep, and cannot himself get out of bed without locking the pistol. The attachment cannot get out of order, and will not cost exceeding $2.50. The invention is certainly ahead of anything in the burglar gun line yet patented, and we hope Mr. Daniels will make a fortune out of it.

We regret to announce the death of Mr. Thomas Erskine, an old and influential citizen of Anderson County, which occurred in the seventy-seventh year of his age at his residence some seven miles east of this place on last Sunday morning, after an illness of several months from consumption. Mr. Erskine was an upright, industrious and honorable gentleman, who spent his life in the pursuit of agriculture. He was a public-spirited citizen, and took great interest in all that pertained to the welfare of his country. As a staunch Democrat he was made president of the Broadwater Democratic Club, and had much to do in shaping the course of that organization in 1876, which made it one of the leading clubs of the County. Mr. Erskine was a member of the Broadwater Presbyterian Church, and was the only living Elder. He was a man of strong convictions, and always acted up to his principles. As a neighbor kind and generous, as a citizen honorable and patriotic, as a parent and husband affectionate, and as a Christian earnest, his death will be sorely felt in his community. On Monday his remains were interred in the family burying ground, after appropriate funeral services at his residence, performed by the Rev. James Brownlee.

Another lot of sewing machines just received by C. A. Reed, Agent, with new attachments and improvements. He is prepared to offer great inducements on his popular machines.

Periodic or Intermittent Fevers and Fever and Ague, together with other miasmatic diseases, all have a common origin in the malarious exhalations of the Mississippi Valley in our State, and all who can do so should obtain a copy at once. It is published in cloth binding at $1.50 or paper at $1.00.

Ancient Papers.

Col. W. S. Pickens, a prominent gentleman of the Brushy Creek portion of Anderson County, exhibited to us this week an old land grant to Robert Pickens, his grandfather, made on the 4th day of May, A. D. 1784, to 640 acres of land, which has been in the possession of his family continuously since that time, and upon which the Colonel now resides. The grant was upon an ordinary article of paper, tied together with red tape, and had the great seal of the State of South Carolina moulded in sealing wax, and covered over neatly with a white paper, bearing upon its sides the impression of the coat of arms and the mottoes of the State. The Robert Pickens to whom this grant was made was an officer in the revolutionary war, and frequently hazarded much at the hands of the Tories in attempting to visit his home, which was upon this tract of land, and was the highest settlement made in South Carolina at that period. On one occasion his house was surrounded by the Tories, as they came in hot pursuit of him, and he only escaped by the presence of mind and fortitude of his wife, who held the door until he could climb up the chimney, and then when they entered to search for him he jumped from the eaves of his house and made his escape. At another time he was so closely pursued that he was compelled to hide in the bark which he had from a large pine, and his pursuers passed immediately over him. After the war he lived upon this place, and in the eighty-third year of his age died and was buried in the family grave yard situated thereon, and in which rest the mortal remains of three Robert Pickens—the father, grandfather and great-grandfather of the present Col. Pickens, all of whom died upon this tract of land, and the two first of whom owned it in immediate precedence of each other and of the present owner. Col. Pickens also showed us a copy of the Pennsylvania Packet and Daily Advertiser, published in Philadelphia on the 19th day of September, 1787, which contained in it a copy of the Constitution of the United States, as it had been recently adopted. These are interesting and valuable old documents, and Col. Pickens takes a just pleasure in being their possessor.

The Abbeville Medium of last week has the following information concerning the ex-Sheriff of that County:

Joshua Y. Jones, whose unaccountable disappearance more than a year ago was the subject of such widespread comment and has ever since remained a mystery, has at last been heard from. He is herding cattle on the wild western frontier, and, exposed to Mexican raid and Indian foray, is making up enough money to return home in the fall and make good the "losses" of his creditors and bondsmen. We have not heard what place he is located, but understand that he has directed his counsel to assure his creditors that he will make them whole. He is getting good pay at five dollars a day, is doing his own cooking and washing, and straining every nerve to get back to the home of his birth. It is useless to make any lengthened tale of this. The young man is coming back and will speak for himself.

Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly for June is a useful, an abundance of good things, literary and artistic. The articles are beautiful and liberally illustrated, and they are timely and highly interesting and instructive. The opening article, "The British Empire in South Africa," is especially so, for the Cape and Natal colonies are attracting universal attention at this time. There are eighteen admirable illustrations in the right side of the magazine, and the whole is a masterpiece of editing, with a discrimination to exertion of body or mind, irritability of temper, low spirits, loss of memory, with a feeling of having neglected some duty, General weakness, Dizziness, Flatulency, &c. &c. There is more than usually copious miscellany, embracing an immense variety of subjects replete with interest, instruction and entertainment. The number contains 125 pages, and nearly 100 engravings, and inasmuch as a single copy can be had for 25 cents, and the subscription price is only $3 a year, postpaid, the publication may certainly claim to be one of, if not the cheapest of the kind in existence. Address, "Frank Leslie's Publishing House, 53, 55, and 57 Park Place, New York."

Picnic at Cooley's Bridge.

Mr. E. B. Ennor: A pretty scene of country is that near Cooley's Bridge on Saluda River, with its diversified surface of hill and dale, and whilst here and there can be seen picturesque farm houses and vine-wreathed cottages. It was here that the young people of Belton decided to have a picnic on the 17th inst. Accepting the invitation of Mr. L., the chairman of arrangements, we decided to go, and were up bright and early Saturday morning preparing to go off, but the lowering clouds over head and muttering thunder in the distance warned us of approaching rain. Consequently we were forced to wait some time before starting. Our party got off from Belton about eleven o'clock, and an hour's drive found us at the appointed place. Owing to the recent heavy rains the grounds upon the river banks were wet and muddy—too much so for ladies. In this extremity our noble friend, E. H. Poore, Esq., and his accomplished lady, came to the rescue, and with that kindness and magnanimity so characteristic of them, threw open the doors of their large and commodious dwelling and bade us welcome. When we arrived a goodly number had gathered from the surrounding country, whilst Williamson sent several of her fair daughters and handsome sons to represent her. We stood exchanging greetings with our friends and watching the arrival of others when the music of a violin, accompanied by the deep, rich tones of Mr. T. C. P.'s voice calling out partners for a quadrille, told us quite plain that dancing was in progress. An hour was spent in this way when the parlor was crowded with the guests to satisfy the cravings of the "inner man." We accepted the invitation of our good friend, Dr. B., and from the amount and variety of good things which he and his party had prepared we thought that they must have intended to feed all who were present. We will bet our last nickel that the ladies who prepared that dinner are the best cooks in America. After dinner the larger portion of the crowd returned to the sitting room and parlor of Mr. P., and engaged in the harmless and innocent amusement of dancing. Occasionally could be seen a couple promenading through the grove or seated in a buggy, conversing in language suitable only for two to hear. The amusements were kept up until the declining sun warned the pleasure-seekers that it was time to return home. It was a very pleasant occasion, and all will remember gratefully the kindness of Mr. P. and wife. We think every one enjoyed themselves, and we are satisfied that all will agree with us in saying T. C. P. had the "best time" of any one.

[ADVERTISEMENT.]

MR. EDITOR: The two officers of the Lodge of Good Samaritans who published a card in your last issue confessing the falsity of the charge they made against me some time since, again attempt to damage me by stating that when I withdrew from the Order I was under charges. Let me place the charges before the public. When the Lodge was first organized here an effort was made to tear down a wall in one of the rooms of the Greeley Institute, and make the room suitable for its meetings. Knowing that this would seriously injure the building I reported the matter to the Chairman of the Board of Trustees of said Institute, who immediately forbade any such action. Consequently, charges were preferred against me as being an ENEMY TO THE ORGANIZATION. In justice to myself I ask the publication of this card. I would surmise upon the signers of the afore said card the necessity of placing a high estimation upon the truth before appearing again in print.
